

OUTDOOR ACTIVITIES For Kids

Be a nature photographer! Take pictures of everything beautiful or interesting you can find.	Create a small boat that will float on a puddle using only things you find in nature.	Find five, or more, different leaves and then research what type of tree they are from.	Sit somewhere comfortable in nature and close your eyes. What do you hear? What is making the sounds?	Go on a nature hunt and look for a rocks shaped like a heart, circle, square and triangle.	Create the tallest tower you can using materials from nature, such as sticks, leaves and even mud!
Spell your name using things you find outside. Try using stones, twigs and even leaves.	Collect items that are different colors and make nature paint.	Use your sense of touch to find something that is soft, squishy, spikey, sticky and smooth.	Bring a favorite book and find a cozy spot in nature to read.	Have an adult help you find a place to take your socks and shoes off and walk through the grass and mud.	Check this
Find a small insect and watch through a magnifying glass to see what it does and where it goes.	Use some old play dough or clay and press it onto tree trunks to get different prints.	Gather a bunch of colorful and interesting things from nature. Create a symmetrical picture.	Use some old play dough or clay and press it onto tree trunks to get different prints.
