

THANKSGIVING

Scavenger Hunt

1 To find the first clue, search where we dine,
Where turkey and stuffing both do shine,
In the room where you feast, with family and
cheer,
Search for plates and glasses, it's quite clear.

5 For the next clue, in the holiday fun,
Look where hands are washed before the feast's begun.
Where water flows, and cleanliness is a must,
Search here next, but don't rush.

3 I'm orange and round, a symbol of the fall,
In pies and dishes, you see me in them all.
What am I, on this day of thanks and cheer, That's baked with spices and fills hearts with cheer.

7 To find the next clue, where colors abound,
Look for me scattered all around.
Autumn's art, on the ground I lay,
In a wreath, decoration, or where you may jump and play.

4 I'm known for my feather
bright,
and snood, quill

10 Where your journey began, go there with glee,
The final clue's hiding, where could it be?

Check under the table, chairs, and every toy,
Have a wonderful Thanksgiving filled with joy!

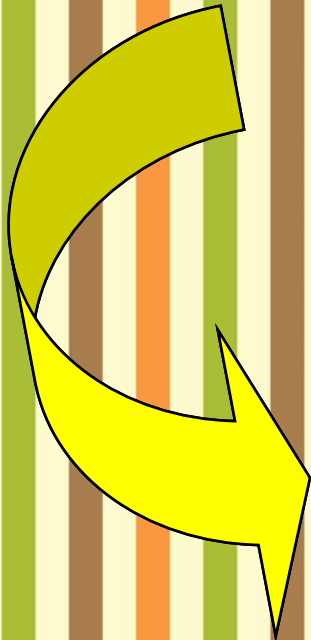

9 Where family and friends come through with grace,
To find your next clue, head to the right place.

A place of greetings, a knock filled with cheer,
Your next clue awaits where guests often first appear.

I'm known for my feathers, so colorful and
bright,
With a wattle and snood, quite a peculiar sight.

I'm the centerpiece of this grand feast,
Find me as either a picture or meat.
